Walking in a - 26° wonderland

Elk Point Elementary School's students and teachers bundled up and hit the street Wednesday afternoon for a winter walk. They were among 32,479 people across the province who took part in the Feb. 7 Winter Walk Day sponsored by SHAPE Alberta, whose motto is, "Safe Healthy Active People Everywhere." Over 206 groups registered and walked for a total of 438,705 minutes. SHAPE is an Alberta-based group of agencies working to provide a better quality of life for Albertans and hoping to get children more active, keep the environment clean, and involve all members of the community in fitness activities.

Past, future combine in celebration theme

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

"Remembering our past, looking forward to our future" will be the theme for the 2007 Elk Point Centennial and Canada Day weekend of celebrations. The theme was approved at last Monday's meeting, where committee members reported progress on their various aspects of planning the event.

Committee chair Bernice Capjack says Elk Point Elementary School has already written letters to former staff members, inviting them to attend a coffee party at the school during the centennial homecoming celebrations. Postcard invitations will soon be available at the town office for other groups and the general public to send to friends and family. With a large stock of Elk Point postcards already on hand, the town opted to add a message to those rather than printing new invitations. The town will also pay the postage on the invitations if they are addressed and returned to the town office.

The large signs promoting the centennial homecoming are ready to go, and public works superintendent Ron Fraess says his crew will install them as soon as snow levels permit.

The committee hoped to hang matching banners from light standards on 50 Ave. and 50 St., but early cost estimates for the banners and brackets are prohibitive and further quotes are being sought.

The sign design will also be used on commemorative t-shirts, which will be ordered in the near future and will go on sale well in advance of the celebration.

"Remembering our past, looking forward to our future"

- Canada Day and
Centennial theme

Window decals were also on the original wish list, but Fraess had a well-received suggestion: why not encourage businesses to paint designs on the inside of their windows for the occasion?

A list of long-ago businesses is being compiled with help from the Elk Point Historical Society, and research is underway into markers or plaques to go at the sites of those buildings. A map indicating their locations will also be compiled and will be included in a souvenir booklet.

The problem of additional parking for the anticipated crowds has been solved, with the public works department available to prepare an area on town property at the north end of 51 Street for parking.

A park-and-ride service is also in the planning stages, with three tractors available if suitable wagons can be found to transport visitors to sites of various activities.

A display of heritage crafts is planned for the Elementary School gym for both June 30 and July 1 and could feature live demonstrations of crafters at work.

A centennial quilt and wall hanging contest and a poster contest for school children are also being planned.

Committee members confirmed that a pyrogy lunch will be served at the Elks Hall, on June 30. A dinner and dance is planned for the evening, pending confirmation of a band and caterer.

Early plans indicate that Canada Day will follow a similar format to previous years. "A busy two hours" of children's activities in the afternoon have been planned by Ruth Vogel, who said an interdenominational church service may also be added to the program. The Great Farm Survival Race will again wrap up Canada Day with its entertaining antics.

Chamber AGM slated for Feb. 21

By Vicki Brooker
Review Staff

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce will hold their 2007 annual meeting next Wednesday, and so far, past-president Rod Randall has had no nibbles in his fishing expedition for a new vice-president. Current VP, Steve Srdic, has indicated he doesn't wish to serve a second term.

Randall hasn't added any new names to the lineup for president, secretary and treasurer, where Sandy Smith, Vicki Brooker and Lesia Porcina have indicated their willingness to remain for another term if no replacements are found.

Randall said at last Wednesday's meeting that he hope members will attend the annual meeting and give their input on plans for the coming year.

The meeting is slated for 6 p.m. at the Empress.

Another upcoming event of interest to members was introduced by Dolores Delisle of the Lakeland Employment and Career Centre. Job Seekers Day will be held at the St. Paul Recreation Centre on Thursday, Feb. 22 from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m., and is "a fast, inexpensive way to hire new employees," Delisle said. She anticipates that the 2007 Job Seeker's Fair will top last year's attendance, when 400 potential employees came to see what jobs were available.

"Over half of [the companies involved] had hired new people because of the fair," Delisle said, adding that while one or two businesses from our area had committed to attending the event, "we're definitely open to having more from Elk Point."

Town manager Myron Goyan had good news for the Chamber. They will once again be able to obtain liability insurance under the Town of Elk Point's umbrella, along with the FCSS, Elk Point Public Library and Friends of the Forts.

Thomas Kondla reported that the Alberta government's Affordable Housing

Task Force will hit the road on Feb. 16, and will visit Elk Point in their travels.

"They are looking for groups to do presentations, and this is very important," he stated. The chamber will look into this opportunity to give local input to the province.

Canadiens play in Elk Point as hockey leagues wind down

By Vicki Brooker
Review Staff

Our friendly neighbourhood sportshound has gone skiing, but here at home, the hockey goes on.

Sunday saw almost non-stop hockey at the A. G. Ross Arena, with the Atom Avalanche, Pee wee Avalanche, Midget Girls Storm and the St. Paul Canadiens in action, and the Midget Colts meeting there to head off to Glendon.

The Atoms made it a three-win weekend on Sunday, edging Pierceland 3 - 2, Brighton Youngchief scoring off Jared McGilvery and Rylan Buffalo, and McGilvery finding the twine twice off assists by Mackenzie Roberts, Colin Nazarchuk and Logan Becker. On Saturday, the Atoms trounced their visitors from Glendon 7 - 2, after a 5 - 2 win in Pierceland on Friday night.

The Pee wee Aves had a much less successful week, and are out of provincial play after games at home on Tuesday and Friday in Smoky Lake, with captain Daniel Garrett scoring the lone Elk Point goal in the two-game, total-point series. On Saturday, the Pee wees lost to Mallaig, with Louie Dion and Dino Meger scoring off assists by Daniel Garrett.

Sunday's game on their home ice was no better for the Pee wee Aves. Their final league game was a penalty-filled contest against St. Paul that made first-time timekeeper Toni May wonder if she was cut out for that job, especially after the final period which saw two and three players at a time from each team in the sin bins. Elk Point's only goal came in the first period, by Dino Meger off an assist by Andrew Jenner. Best wishes to Andrew and his twin "Bruise Brother" Matthew as they celebrate their 12th birthday on Valentine's Day.

The Midget Girls Storm also played at home on Sunday afternoon, with a much better and more entertaining game than is indicated by a lopsided final score, Tellia Loughran scoring for Elk Point in this contest against North Battleford.

Many of the minor hockey players and their families remained at the arena for an exciting contest between the St. Paul Junior B Canadiens and Killam Wheat Kings, with four Elk Point residents, Corry Bezpalko, Lee Letestu, Devin Moneta and Scott Dallaire, in the starting lineup. St. Paul would lose the game by a single marker, despite all the encouragement from their Elk Point fans. Indications are that further Junior B games could be scheduled in Elk Point in the future, due to the good fan response.

While the Storm raged on at home, the Midget Colts galloped up to Glendon, but lost the first game of their league play-offs 6 - 1. The second game goes tonight (Tuesday) in Dewberry at 7 p.m. The Colts also went down to defeat in Mannville on Friday night, with a disappointing 8 - 2 loss putting an end to their provincial playoff action.

According to one hockey

dad, the bannock burgers were the best part of the Pee wee Colts game in Saddle Lake Saturday morning, with a 7 - 1 loss for the Elk Point/Dewberry team, which had four very tired players who had helped out the Pee wee Aves in Smoky Lake the night before.

The Novice Hurricanes traveled to Mannville this weekend, where Brodin Ference scored the lone goal. (Continued on Page 8)

Support for local athletes

It was great to see the huge crowd filling the stands of the A. G. Ross Arena on Sunday night for the St. Paul Canadiens game against Killam. There were close to 200 people in attendance, we're told, far more than usually show up for a Canadiens game in their own home town.

It's too bad - those folks are missing out on some excellent entertainment.

There's a lot of talent and a lot of action in a Junior B game, and the price is reasonable. When this level of hockey is as near as your local arena, it seems only logical to go down and cheer on your favourites.

One reason for Sunday's good crowd may be that four of those boys out there in the red sweaters are from Elk Point, and spent their minor years playing for Elk Point teams. It's a long time since we've seen some of them in action, and they definitely fulfill the promise they showed back then.

It was heartwarming to see the peewee team which had been locked in mortal combat a few hours earlier with St. Paul's peewee team, totally forgetting their rivalry with the neighbouring town and cheering on the young men in the same red sweaters. Those youngsters know good hockey when they see it, and appreciate the opportunity to see the level of competition they may play at in the future.

It's up to us to come out and support our future hockey stars, from micro-novice level on up, so they will be encouraged to keep on playing. If enough players stayed with the sport, we might just have a junior team of our own to enjoy some day. It's worth a try.

WAY BACK WHEN...

Grand challenge, grand opening, golf

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE ELK POINT REVIEW AND LAKELAND REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF FEBRUARY 13 IN...

1987

The liveliest discussion in some time erupted at Town Council during a debate on the golf club lease agreement, with major disagreement over the potential redevelopment of the golf course layout to allow for the addition of ball diamonds. Planning was well underway for celebrations of Elk Point's 80th anniversary of settlement and its 25th anniversary as a town, with projects including a contest for a new town flag design.

1992

1997

The Vulcan Electric rink skipped by Don Clark won their fourth annual Elk Point Oilmen's Bonspiel grand challenge, their sixth victory in eight years. The newly formed Community Health Council visited Elk Point and heard presentations from the Licensed Practical Nurses, the Area Diabetes Education Committee and Elk Point Interagency Health Committee Task Force.

2002

The 2002 Canada Day celebrations would celebrate '135 years of Canadian people,' with planning well underway for the event and multicultural performers being sought for the stage show. The Town of Elk Point increased their support for the Elk Point Golf and Country Club, increasing the amount of raw water which the club would receive free of cost to 45,000 cubic metres.

GUEST COLUMN

A matter of attitude

Antoine de Ste. Exupery is quoted as saying, "The meaning of things lies not in the things themselves, but in our attitude towards them." With tomorrow being Valentine's Day, the question then becomes, "What does that day mean to you?" Some of you will say, "it is the day I get to tell my special someone that I love them." Of course, you will give them flowers, chocolates or whatever.

After all of that, the bottom line question becomes, "what is your attitude about Valentine's Day?" Some of you might be saying, "Let's not make a big deal about it - it's just what the Hallmark people call a special day to say I love you." So really, Valentine's Day depends on your attitude about it.

Speaking of attitude, there is a story about Thomas Edison's laboratory which was virtually destroyed by fire in December 1914 that illustrates how attitude can make a difference. Although the damage exceeded $2 million, the buildings were only insured for $238,000 because they were made of concrete and thought to be fireproof. Much of Edison's life work went up in spectacular flames that December night. At the height of the fire, Edison's 24-year-old son, Charles, frantically searched for his father among the smoke and debris. He finally found him, calmly watching the scene, his face glowing in the reflection, his white hair blowing in the wind.

"My heart ached for him," said Charles. "He was 67 - no longer a young man - and everything was going up in flames. When he saw me, he shouted, 'Charles, where's your mother?' When I told him I didn't know, he said, 'Fond her. Bring her here. She will never see anything like this as long as she lives.'"

The next morning, Edison looked at the ruins and said, "here is great value in disaster. All our mistakes are burned up. Thank God we can start anew." Three weeks after the fire, Edison managed to deliver his first phonograph.

There is another story that illustrates the importance of recognizing someone. Fran Tarkenton, former Minnesota Vikings quarterback, once called a play that required him to block onrushing tacklers. NFL quarterbacks almost never block. They're usually vastly outweighed by defenders, so blocking exposes them to the risk of severe injury. But the team was behind, and a surprise play was needed. Tarkenton went in to block, and the runner scored a touchdown. The Vikings on the game. Watching the game films with the team the next day, "Tarkenton expected a big pat on the back for what he'd done. It never came. After the meeting, Tarkenton approached coach Bud Grant and asked, "You saw my block, didn't you, Coach? How come you didn't say anything about it?"

Grant replied, "Sure, I saw the block. It was great. But you're always working hard out there, Fran. I figured I didn't have to tell you."

"Well," Tarkenton replied, "if you ever want me to block again, you do!"

Both of these stories illustrate some good point about our attitude. The first story illustrated the importance of attitude. Our attitude does make a difference. The second story illustrates the point of recognizing what someone else means to us.

This point from "The Best of Bits and Pieces" says it another way.

"Everyone needs recognition for his accomplishments, but few people make the need known quite as clearly as the little boy who said to his father: 'Let's play darts. I'll throw and you say, 'Wonderful!'"

So in conclusion, let us all remember Valentine's Day and tell or show your special someone how much you love them. And then - do it more often throughout the year. Happy Valentine's Day, everyone!

A telegraph line ran through it

When Elk Point's earliest settlers arrived, they may have been surprised to find a sign of civilization in the wilderness, in the form of a telegraph line. The line extended from Battleford to Fort Saskatchewan, in this area running roughly parallel to the old Fort Pitt - St. Paul trail, and crossing the area of the present town near the Peter Fidler statue. The line was built in the late 1880s.

The first telegraph office in this area was at Mooswa, where the Windsor Club is now located, and was operated by John McCartney. In 1910, a telegraph station was established three miles west of Elk Point and operated by Ed Boyd. A station at Caskeyville, a mile west and a half mile south of Elk Point, was opened in 1913, operated by Maudie Hunter. The first telegraph office in Elk Point was opened March 21, 1921 by Ray Keitges, hooking up with the Canadian government line, and remaining in business until 1927 when the line was discontinued.

We go from telegraph to telephone in this week's centennial question: When did Elk Point receive telephone service?

French exchange update

By ERIC MOSLEY
F. G. Miller High School

The fundraising is all finished (finally!) for F. G. Miller's French Exchange Club. Our school will host and visit Charles Gravel Polyvente in Quebec. We have already contacted our 'twins' (the students with whom we will stay in Quebec and vice versa).

While in Quebec for one week we will stay in Montreal for one night and spend the rest of our sleeps in Chicoutimi. Soon we will find out about the activities we will be doing while in Quebec from March 11 to March 18.

The Quebec group will be here April 9 to April 16. We will all visit Edmonton (Mall and legislature), Banff, Drumheller, Cold Lake air base, Fort George and Buckingham House, Cochrane's buffalo farm and our school. Final touches are being made to the planning of our itinerary and the exchange is coming along very well, thanks to all the parent-organizers and everyone else who has supported us.

Watch for more news on the exchange in weeks to come.

Leagues wind down

The whole team skated hard, keeping the score close throughout the first and second periods, while Ryan McGee did an outstanding job in net. Coach Allan Ference also reported hard work by the Odgaard brothers.

One of the best games of the weekend was reported by the Micro Novice Tornados, who have only seven players that "get a lot of ice time," according to team spokesperson Roxanne Gunderson. "They play the whole game, and they're a good little team." In their 9 - 6 win over Marwayne, Ross Hawryluk had a hat trick, Hayden Gunderson and Dustin Pankiw two apiece and Nolan Lowry and Chad Poitras scored singles, making this two big wins in a row over the same team, with a 10-6 victory in the previous contest. The Tornados have the Family Day weekend off to rest up before Vermilion visits on Feb. 24.
